State Rep. Peter Beck (R-Mason) will help the Mason Goddard School attempt to break a Guinness World Record at its block party on Friday.

The former Mason mayor will act as the honorary “Simon” in a game of Simon Says at the event, which starts at 1 p.m.

Goddard Schools across the nation will participate in the game in an attempt to break the world record for the “Largest Game of Simon Says (Multiple Venues).” The current record involved 12,215 participants at the Utah Summer Games Opening Ceremony in 2007.

The block party, which is free and open to the public, includes hands-on activities for parents and children that emphasize playful learning and healthy eating and fitness.

The Mason Goddard School is at 754 Reading Road. For more information, call 513-398-2777 or go to the Mason Goddard School website.
