

DESPITE RAIN, A DAY FOR FUN AND GAMES IN SANATOGA

By Staff Writer • February 5th, 2011

GODDARD SCHOOL HOSTS COMMUNITY GAMES – Current and possibly future students of The Goddard School®, 2074 E. High St., Sanatoga PA, joined in a story hour, made crafts and played Saturday (Feb. 5, 2011) from 10 a.m. to noon as the school conducted an open house in what were labeled as The Goddard Community Games. School co-owner Edward Shaw said about 20 families were registered to attend the event, which showcased its programs and facility. Although it rained steadily outside, among those capturing the kids’ attention inside was Goddard music teacher “Mrs. B,” also known as Jo Anne Bathurst. She read, mimed, mugged and sang her way through a colorfully illustrated book, and filled the place with young laughter.
